Commissioner Lubbers to speak at first Indiana Latino Education Summit

INDIANAPOLIS – Indiana Commissioner for Higher Education Teresa Lubbers will speak at the Indiana Latino Education Summit at 9 a.m. EST on Wednesday, Nov. 12, at the Sheraton Hotel in downtown Indianapolis. This event will provide Hoosiers with best practices to increase Latino college completion.

The workshop topics and panel discussions will provoke students, advocates and parents alike to influence change by implementing Solutions that Work. They will focus on mentoring students, adult education, engaging parents and students, understanding Latino culture, student stories and help on how to close the educational disparity gap.

This is the second day of a three day summit that will bring together community advocates and school administrators. The first day is for students, and is free. The third day will be presented entirely in Spanish for parents.
